How to Improve English Vocabulary? How to Learn IELTS Vocabulary in 6 Steps? If you are wondering about how to learn or get started to learn IELTS vocabulary, then here is a 6 step method to help you excel in your English vocabulary for IELTS. 1. Find a Suitable Source of Learning Choose an interesting book, TV show, radio show, podcast, YouTube series, or magazine. People learn more efficiently when they are having fun, so don't choose anything dull and boring. 2. Maintain a Journal or a Vocab Notebook Yes, if you truly want to improve your English vocabulary quickly, you must keep a diary or vocab copy. You will write the new words that you will learn each day in this copy. Make sentences with these terms and their definitions. The notebook does not have to be pricey; it simply has to be a place where you can keep track of your daily notes. 3. Consume your Source Read/watch/listen to whatever you choose in Step 1 and highlight or mark at least 10 words that you don't understand or maybe don't know the meaning of. Try to deduce what they imply from the context. This is an essential stage since it will help you remember the new words. 4. Start Using New Words Simply writing down and memorizing the word meanings of new words will not help you enhance your English vocabulary. You must begin utilizing these newly discovered words in your regular life and in your daily interactions and communication. Only then will you be able to excel in English vocabulary. 5. Look for Synonyms In an online dictionary, look for alternative synonyms for the new words. Make a note of the synonyms, collocations, antonyms, and pronunciation for each word. You may also use images to help you recall the term. 6. Review your New Words Finally, keep reviewing the list of new words, their synonyms, and antonyms after every one week, two weeks, and then one month. 100 Common Difficult Idioms with Examples List of Words for IELTS Vocabulary Here are a few words to build your vocabulary for IELTS: Range: distance from low to high Attribute: to give credit for Tradition: what people normally do Estimate: take a guess Melancholy: sadness/despair Expose: show something hidden Embellish: add details to something Lucid: something easy to understand Archaic: something very old Audacity: boldness Jovial: merry Diligent: careful and hardworking Mundane: routine Unprecedented: never done before Extrapolate: estimate or conclude Banish: get rid of Paragon: best of its kind Retract: take back Empathetic: relating to others' feelings Variance: quality of being different Here is a set of 50 Difficult words with meanings to master the IELTS Vocabulary!
